

StudentsAchieve: What Will Parents See?

Home Screen: Top menu bar

Achievements: Displays all Focus Areas and PSD categories with the students current assessment level, for all subjects

Assessments: Lists all assessments for the student in all subjects according to date. Currently, it is also listing last year's assessments. Developers are working to have this corrected. As a result, this tab takes a considerable amount of time to load.

Learning Outcomes: After selecting a course, the screen lists all of the outcomes and associated assessments with the student's current assessment level. Parents can select an assignment and view the assignments characteristics, completion codes and comments.

Codes: Provides a description of the codes the NESD uses for assessing.

Student Name: Parents can toggle between their children.

Note: At the Grades 9 – 12 levels, the overall course mark is not displayed

Parents can select any of the subjects through a drop down selector.

Parents can select or de-select any of the Focus Areas or PSD Categories.

Parents can select the Term through a drop down selector.

All outcomes are visible for a Focus Area, even those that do not have any assessments attached to them.

The Outcome result is populated with the result from the gradebook. This could be Most Recent or Professional Judgement. The parent will not directly see if Professional Judgement has been applied. However, in the instance where the outcome result is quite different from the Assignment results, the parent may realize something was changed.

If parents select any assignment the popup window displaying the assignment's detailed information is displayed (same as previous page).
